

S. S. CONVENTION OPENS TUESDAY IN THIS CITY

First Session of County Convention
Held Here — Tuesday's Sessions at Washington Church.

Sunday school workers and all interested in the advance Sunday school movement are again reminded of the county convention the first session of which will take place Tuesday evening in Third Street Methodist church. The speakers for this meeting will be W. J. Vaughn, known to most Sunday school workers as one of the best posted men on up-to-date Sunday school methods of any in Kentucky. His subject will be "The New Emphasis in Education." Another wide-awake speaker will be the Rev. Fred Riley, pastor of Aberdeen M. E. church. With two such attractive speakers the church should be crowded to hear them.

Then comes the big part of the convention on Wednesday at Washington, to be held in the Presbyterian church at that place. Mr. Vaughn will again speak. The county officers will give an account of their year's work. Officers for next year will be selected, and a general balancing up of the year's work will be made. The special attraction of Wednesday's session will be the address of Hon. Geo. Colvin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Mr. Colvin's address will be given in the afternoon. Whatever part of the convention you have to miss don't miss Mr. Colvin's address.

Wednesday's convention will begin at 10 a. m. Autos will leave Maysville at 9 a. m. Those desiring to go should be at the Third Street M. E. church not later than 9 a. m. Don't forget your lunch. Those going who desire taxi service reserved should call phone 217 so that ample provision may be made for everyone. Maysville's schools should make a good showing in the county convention. The county schools will be on hand in big delegations.

YOUTH ADMITS MURDER OF AUTO MAN TO GET MONEY

Hillsboro, Ohio, Youth Murders Garage Man to Obtain Money to Go to Picture Show—Makes Complete Confession.

Hillsboro, O., June 4. — Never flicking an eyelash, his voice never faltering, Edgar Leaverton, 19 years old, told Sheriff Selwensberger how he killed Fay Ballard of Greenfield, O., automobile dealer.

"I just needed money to go to a picture show," he said. "I put my left arm around his neck, took a revolver from my coat pocket, held it close to his head and pulled the trigger. I don't think he realized what I was doing. I only got a dollar."

Leaverton was returned here from Williamstown, Ky., today. He was arrested in Williamstown on Saturday, when passersby noticed that the automobile he was driving was stained with blood. As soon as he was placed in custody he told his story, telling where Ballard's body would be found. The Williamstown authorities did not believe him—he was too candid—but, nevertheless, they sent a searching party to 13000 Road, a few miles from Hillsboro, where the body was discovered.

A bullet had pierced the skull behind the right ear.

"I wanted to see my mother — her name is Sarah Leaverton, and she works at the County Infirmary," Leaverton said. "The train service was poor and so I went to the Price & Ballard garage at Greenfield and told them I wanted a car to drive me to Hillsboro."

"They said they didn't have a driver, but I told them it was important, so they said Ballard—he was the man I killed—would drive. 'How much will it be?' I asked. 'Seven dollars,' they said. I didn't kick. I didn't have any money."

"We rode a long way and everything went along all right. We had gotten nearly to the place where I killed Ballard when I asked him to take me to my mother's home. He said he would, but that it would be extra."

"A few minutes later I shot him." "No," Leaverton continued, "I didn't feel bad about it. I just lifted him in my arms and carried him about sixty feet to the side of the road. I got the blood on the car by not being careful. But I didn't care. I didn't feel that I had done wrong."

"And I don't know, so far as that is concerned. Why is it that people think I did?"

"Any way, after I had carried the body to one side, I drove into Hillsboro. I met some of my boy friends and asked them to come with me. 'Where are you going?' they asked. 'On a joy ride,' I told them."

"Well, I took them, but they began asking me whose car it was. I told them it belonged to a fellow named Ballard, who lived in Greensboro. I said I left him out in the country. I offered to drive out there, but none of them wanted to go."

Leaverton, according to police records here, has been in trouble previously. Some time ago, the police charge, he broke into a hardware store and stole merchandise. He also was engaged in a sort of feud with a group of small boys.

At the county jail he appears to be in the best of spirits. When asked if he was sorry he had killed Ballard he said no—"at least not very," he explained.

Ballard's death has created much feeling in Greenfield, where he was considered one of the village's most prominent men. Engaged in the used car business, he had amassed a small fortune, his friends said. Ballard's car is being held at Middletown.

LEWISBURG WILL ERECT BEAUTIFUL SCHOOL HOUSE

School Supporters of Lewisburg District Accept County Board's Proposition to Erect Consolidated School

At the regular monthly meeting of the Mason County Board of Education held Monday at the office of Superintendent Turnipseed, the County Board made a proposition to the Lewisburg people who are clamoring for a new school building and the proposition was accepted.

The proposition is that the Lewisburg Improvement Association will erect a beautiful new Consolidated school building large enough to accommodate the school's every need and will finance the deal and pay the interest on the cost until such a time as the County Board shall have paid for the Washington building, which, at the present rate, will be about five years. When the Washington building is entirely paid for the County Board will pay the interest on the Lewisburg building and retire the principal by its rental plan used on all other consolidated buildings.

There were several vacancies in the county's teaching force filled at the Monday meeting of the board.

CARDINALS WIN FROM CYNTHIANA IN SUNDAY'S GAME

League Leaders Defeat Harrison County Club on Their Home Diamond — Many Local Fans Attend on Special Train.

The Cardinals after trailing the Cynthiana crew for eight innings on their grounds Sunday won out in an upbill fight when they pushed over two runs in the eighth, the final score being 4 to 2. As usual the opposing team failed to turn hits into runs after the fashion of the Cardinals whose runs scored for the season are almost as many as their hits, and the visitors lost many a chance to score by having men left on bases. The bats of Slayback, Kresser and Margerum did the work and everybody hit except Fortner and Class.

A crowd of about a hundred and fifty fans took the trip and arrived home last night at 8:30, much pleased with the twelfth victory of the Cardinals.

HELD AS RUM SELLERS, BUT STUFF WASN'T RUM.

Harry A. Ort, Prohibition Enforcement Officer in Northern Kentucky, was unable to decide last night what charge to prefer against two men whom he took into custody in Maysville, Ky., yesterday and detained in the Cavington jail last night.

The men, Roy Hamilton and William Hefferon, were attempting to sell as whisky twelve barrels filled with a fluid manufactured from potash and bicarbonate, according to Mr. Ort.

He confiscated the fluid and will have it analyzed by a chemist before preferring a charge against the Maysville pair. — Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

CHAUTAUQUA TO BE HELD FROM AUGUST 6 TO 13

Tentative Program Offered by Talent Bureau at Monday's Dinner is Filled With Splendid Numbers.

A very delightful dinner, the first of a series of three, was given by the Civics Committee for the American Legion as a boost to the 1922 Chautauqua at the Legion's home in Sutton street Monday. There were about twenty-five business men guests at the dinner. Two other dinners will be held a few weeks apart at each of which there will be invited twenty-five other business men.

Dr. A. E. Ewart, of Chicago, who was Superintendent of last year's Chautauqua, and who will return to manage the local Chautauqua this year, was the only speaker.

Dates for the Chautauqua were announced as August 6-13 inclusive at Beechwood Park. A tentative program was announced as follows:

Sunday, August 6. — Union services. Monday, August 7. — Swiss Yodlers and Hon. Henry T. Rainey, for 18 years Member of Congress. Tuesday, August 8. — Polubni, magician, and C. E. Weaver, sketch artist and lecturer.

Wednesday, August 9. — Cleveland Symphony Quintet and Andrew H. Hornley, Lecturer.

Thursday, August 10. — Ruth Whitworth Players.

Friday, August 11. — Pittsburgh Ladies' Orchestra and George E. O'Dell, lecturer.

Saturday, August 12. — Mendelssohn Musical Club and Judge Frank P. Sadler, former Judge of the Chicago Municipal Court.

Sunday, August 13. — American Glee Club and Col. Holp, Lecturer.

Some thought that there should be a woman speaker of national reputation on the program and an effort will be made by Dr. Ewart to get Mrs. Douglas Robinson, of New York, sister of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, for an address.

OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

STARTLING CONDITIONS

Are the big cities of the United States becoming lawless, or are their newspapers exaggerating the conditions? This question has been suggested again and again by the accounts in the New York papers of hold-ups, robberies, automobile banditry, etc., in the metropolis and the complaints made by these papers against a police department alleged to be shockingly inefficient. Now comes the Chicago Tribune with an editorial depicting startling conditions in that city and indirectly charging the municipal authorities and courts with inefficiency, corruption and virtual breakdown. Says the Tribune:

"We can not blame persons for the opinion they now have regarding this community. This has been known for a generation as the home of the sawed-off shotgun, the bomb and the one-hand gun. It has been the home of the professional bondsman, of the jumped bail, of the bond forfeited but uncollected. It has been the home of the lawyer criminal, of the fixed jury, and the witnesses kidnapped or fleeing in terror.

"It has been the home of the paroled and pardoned crook, the home of the pickpocket whose case is fixed, the home of the murderer who beats the rope. It is the home of a criminal system which knows 20 ways of defeating the law to one the law knows of enforcement. This is where the words 'not guilty' are expected when a jury has had the case of a murderer fairly caught with the victim at his feet and his gun in his hand. It is where Gene Geary, twice a killed because he wanted to kill and for no other reason, beat the rope. It is where criminals throw bombs in gambling feuds, in political feuds, and in labor wars.

"It is where ex-convicts take charge of labor organizations with guns and maintain themselves by shooting and by blackmail. It is where hard-working men leave widows and orphans because they wanted to support their families. It is where gangsters shoot out quarrels in crowded streets. It is where murderers walk free on the streets, where families are kidnapped, where homes are taken by storm by criminals in daylight. It is the home of perjury and suborning perjury. It is the home of the crooked jurymen whose wife signals him from the courtroom crowd that she has his money in her hand. It is where lawyer criminals stack the cards on the prosecutors and are permitted to practice undisturbed in the courts with nearly every one knowing exactly how they free their guilty clients and turn them loose upon the community again.

"This is where a lawyer criminal has to be enought in the act of bribing jurors and suborning perjury before he will be disbarred, and this is where they are shrewd enough to be not so caught, although what they do is known. This is where sentimentalism intervenes in behalf of brutality and deeds of sponge cake. This is where high personages intervene for jackals and wolves and prevent or soften their punishment. This is where men go to prison for crimes which should mean life behind bars or death on the scaffold, and where, by the clemency of authority, they are free in a few years."

If the powers of evil have triumphed to this extent in Chicago, and if the conditions in New York are as described, it is safe to assume that there is something radically wrong elsewhere and that other municipalities have likewise deteriorated. What ails the country? This question must perplex especially the confiding prohibitionist who expected the ban on liquor to be promptly purifying in its effect. He must be bewildered, perceiving that something more than prohibition is needed, as he reads such accounts as the above.

BOSTON GIVES US A NEW SENSATION.

Versed in forest lore and determined to prove that the primitive species has nothing on the modern flapper and her male companion, we hear that a young Boston couple propose to make a dash into the woods of Maine without food or clothing and there dwell for a period of six weeks, wresting their sustenance from Mother Earth. Boston has given to the world many a thrill from the day of the famous tea party to this year of our Lord, but this latest demonstration of the unique eaps the climax. Still, the experiment may not be without its value. If the young couple—the young wife is twenty-three and her husband twenty-seven—manage to get along in their battle with nature, it may bring them a greater spirit of contentment, in that it may teach them how little they really need in this world, and make them more pliable to the exactions of the shoe trust, which has pinched the toes of New England and the pocketbooks of the whole nation for a good many years. The spot chosen for the experiment is one uninhabited by man, though reports have it as infested with wild beasts, and of course by the terrifying mosquito, which may prove the greatest obstacle to be overcome. When all is said and done, however, it would be more important if some one could demonstrate how a young couple can live in civilized surroundings on a modest wage and raise a healthy American family without turning the young wife into a drudge and the young husband into slavish sycophant, lashed into obedience and sapped of all initiative because of dread of the future and the possible loss of a job.

REMUS OFFERS A PLEA.

After being sentenced to a year in jail, George Remus, alleged "king of bootleggers," and leading spirit of those who dealt in dangerous and forbidden stuff with the "Death Valley" farm as a gathering place, pleaded for leniency in behalf of a young man who had been associated with him in business and had also been convicted.

Remus, the "big gentleman" of operation which covered three states, put up an appeal containing much pathos. He described the youth of the convicted boy, his innocence of heart and motive.

Minds, even musty minds, often function peculiarly. Remus' sympathy for youth and innocence, as the Cincinnati Post remarks, is a bit late.

There was a time when the man who became so wealthy from illegal whisky dealings that he bought five automobiles at a time might have done that young man a great service. If he had been the right sort he never would have taken the boy into a business which he must have known would eventually bring him into dishonor and end in his appearance as an object of pity.

FIGHTING CATTLE T. B. IS SUCCESSFUL BY AREA PLAN.

In addition to systematic eradication of cattle tuberculosis by the accredited herd plan, interest in the "area plan," as it is called, has lately developed in many states, according to the report issued by the United States Department of Agriculture describing progress during March. The eradication of tuberculosis under the comprehensive plan generally includes a county as a unit and all the cattle in the county are tested. The report shows that in states where the eradication work was concentrated in certain localities in an effort to wipe out the disease entirely, a great many more animals were tested than in states where the area plan is not yet followed to any appreciable extent.

In the one month, Nebraska, working on the area plan, tested 21,000 cattle. A number of other states made high records as a result of the concentration of efforts in a few counties. During March, Michigan tested 19,817 head; New York, 13,076; Missouri, 12,799; Indiana, 11,933; Wisconsin, 11,778; Iowa, 11,250; and Tennessee, 8,455. The total number tested in all the states during the month was 228,779.

The area plan of testing is a valuable supplement to accredited-herd work which has resulted in the eradication of many thousands of head of tuberculous cattle and the establishment of more than 13,000 herds accredited as free from the disease.

There are no more than 305,000 accredited cattle in the country; over 1,250,000 tested once and found free of tuberculosis; more than 2,133,000 under supervision; and about 408,000 on the waiting list. Wisconsin leads in number of accredited cattle with 36,153, and Minnesota follows with 33,759. However, the rate at which the work is going on in some other states, these two will have to keep very busy to stay at the top.

WILL BREED OF SOFT HOGS RESULT FROM PEANUT FEED?

Is a soft, oily fat on a hog, produced by feeding peanuts, a characteristic that can be inherited and that will persist regardless of the nature of the ration fed the offspring? That is one of the interesting questions to be investigated by the United States Department of Agriculture at the experiment farm at Beltsville, Md. Both the bacon and lard types will be used, the former to be represented at the start by 4 Tamworth girls and the latter by 4 Poland-China girls.

From weaning time until their first litters are weaned these 8 girls will be grown and fed on a peanut ration. From the time of weaning their pigs will be fed on some hardening ration, such as corn and tankage, and will be compared with a check lot of pigs whose dams were fed on hardening feeds instead of peanuts during their development and gestation periods. When the pigs have been grown out and finished, some of each lot will be slaughtered to determine whether there is any difference in the carcasses; that is, if the peanut ration fed to the mothers has made it more difficult to put a hard flesh on the offspring with corn.

WIRELESS USED IN WAR AGAINST BOOTLEGGERS.

Detroit. — Wireless will be used by the state police against rum runners attempting to smuggle liquor over the border. Col. Roy Vandereek, head of that organization, announces.

Any activity on the part of a rum runner in Canada indicating he is going to leave will be flashed by Canadian custom officials, and state police in charge of the several stations on this shore will immediately notify prohibition officials, Mr. Vandereek says.

One wireless station is to be installed at Neganee, another at Gaylord, a third at Grand Rapids and others at Detroit and elsewhere.

POEM BY UNCLE JOHN

"VIX POPULI"

I've noticed this "Vox Populi" that's on the court house dome,—but it's only here right lately, I've thought about it some. Of course, we practice dignity, sometimes its over did, when we speechify in furrin tongues to keep our meann' did. . . .

A Populi is noted for the Voice that it contains — you never hear it mentioned in connection with its brains. . . . There needn't be no virtue in the ob-jack of its choice, — for the Populi of nations rests entirely on its voice! From the beller of the bull-ring to the warble of the donk,—or the growl-in' of the tiger to the chatter of the monk, there swells the noise of bedlam that could crack the azure sky, and that's the sort of schorism that we call "Vox Populi!"

I haf to shudder, sometimes to anticipate the day when we're all amalgamated with the alien an' the stray. . . . It ain't a pleasant outlook to contemplate the hour when everything is "People" and the "Populi" is power!

THE SHORTER BIBLE.

The heretical, rationalistic forces do not seem to be satisfied with the wreck they have produced. They are responsible for the late war. They are also responsible for the crime wave sweeping this country and Europe. The orgy of sin and crime can be traced directly to false teachings. Like the vultures they made a feast of the decaying carcass. Not satisfied with the murder, expense, wreck, and ruin produced, they have written a shorter Bible which will perpetuate the orgy. The astonishing thing is that there are leaders connected with the Y. M. C. A., and the Y. W. C. A., who have lent their names and their influence to the infamous, hell-born production called the Shorter Bible. If the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. organizations permit their names and the names of their leaders to be attached to this abortion, then the righteous, orthodox Christian forces of America should crush the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. Our boys and girls cannot be entrusted to the leadership or to the educational and club features of institutions drawing their sustenance from the churches of the living Christ, to have the faith of those children undermined by such infamous attacks upon God's infallible Word.

The Shorter Bible, so called, is one of the most blasphemous attacks upon God's Holy Bible. Let the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. repudiate their leaders or suffer the consequences. Orthodox, self-respecting consecrated men and women will not be insulted by such attacks of the rationalistic forces.

SEASONAL TIPS FOR GARDENERS.

Regardless of whether tomatoes are staked or unstaked, it is a good plan to go over them about every ten days and remove suckers. This conserves the strength of the plant for fruit production. The suckers may be removed satisfactorily by using the thumb and forefinger or a sharp knife.

sects and diseases, care should be taken not to spray them while they are in bloom as this decreases the amount of fruit which the plants will produce.

—NY—
About June 1 is the time to make the second planting of watermelons in Kentucky. Tom Watson is an especially good variety for planting at that time.

Equal parts of air-slaked lime and tobacco dust mixed together and sprinkled around cucumber, melon and squash plants act as a repellent to the striped cucumber beetle which already is reported to be giving some trouble, gardeners at the College of Agriculture say. Tobacco dust may be obtained by grinding tobacco stems.

MAJORITY OF SHEEP HAVE STOMACH WORMS.

Lexington, Ky. — Practically every flock of sheep in Kentucky is infested with stomach worms, according to L. J. Horlacher in charge of sheep work at the College of Agriculture. However, by using proper preventive measures, farmers can keep the infestation from becoming very serious and send their lambs to market in prime condition, he pointed out.

"On the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station farm we have found that rotation of pasture is one of the best means of prevention. Whenever possible, ewes and lambs are changed to fresh pastures every two weeks from the first of June until the lambs are marketed. It has been found that if the pastures are kept in good condition, the infestation will not be as serious as it is if the grass is kept cropped short.

"Hops, oats, clover and vetch all make excellent crops for alternating with permanent blue grass pastures. Lambs which are kept free from the worms by these preventive measures will be ready for market much earlier than those which are troubled with them."

"If the sheep become infested with the worms, they must be drenched, copper sulphate, commonly known as bluestone, being best for this. One-fourth of a pound of the pulverized material is dissolved in a pint of boiling water and enough water added to make three gallons. This is sufficient to drench 100 adult animals, each one being given three and one-half ounces or seven level tablespoonfuls. Lambs receive half this amount. It is necessary to keep the sheep off feed for 12 hours before drenching and care also should be taken not to strangle them while the drench is being given. Details of controlling stomach worms may be obtained by writing the Experiment Station."

FORMER LONDON GIRL ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

London, Ont. — Falling in attempt to commit suicide because she alleged her husband had ceased to care for her, Mrs. June Gray, thirty-two years old, 489 Henry street, Detroit, wrote a letter to a newspaper in her home town, London, Ont., and enclosed clippings from the Detroit papers telling of her unsuccessful attempt to end her life.

She asks in the letter that the facts be published "as I am a former resident of London, and some people may be interested." Her husband, formerly a West Lorne, (Ont.) man, now also lives in Detroit, but separated from his wife some time ago. She complains in her letter to the London papers that even her attempt to suicide has failed to bring her husband back to her.

After swallowing an overdose of highly poisonous tablets, Mrs. Gray's cries of pain attracted the attention of another lodged in the Henry street apartment house, who hastily summoned a physician and had the suffering woman removed to the Detroit receiving hospital where she is now convalescing.

"I had hoped when I failed to will myself my husband would see the injustice of his attitude and return to me, but he hasn't," Mrs. Gray says. "Now I don't want him. I wish the poison had killed me—I would have been out of my troubles. But I shall not try suicide again."

ONE-PIECE BATHING TABOO IN PERU.

San Francisco. — California one-piece bathing suits may be all right on California beaches, but they are taboo in Peru.

This news was brought here by Miss Kay Miller on her return from a South American trip.

When she appeared on the Callao beach for a dip the beach guards politely but firmly asked, if "she would mind wearing just a little more covering."

FIRE REGULATIONS UNDERGO CHANGES IN MANY CITIES

Study of Causes Leading to Adoption of Fire-Safe Roofs Through Out the Country.

During the five years 1916 to 1920 Americans have been hurrying up property at the rate of $334,544,535 a year according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters which has been making a study of more than 2,000,000 fires occurring within that time. The total loss, for the period, of $1,672,722,677 would, according to engineering authorities, be sufficient to build 334,000 dwellings at $5,000 each—enough housing to care for 1,700,000 persons. This is equivalent to the combined population of Connecticut, Nevada and Wyoming.

The figures show that the value of property destroyed by fires communicated through the roof was $223,000,000. Study of these and similar figures are leading to drastic changes in fire regulations in many cities of the country. Roof fires are among those considered easily preventable and steps are being taken with that end in view. Fire department records in many cities show that about forty per cent. of all conflagrations have resulted from sparks and flaming embers carried by high winds to the roofs of nearby buildings. It is declared that if proper care had been exercised and fire-resistant roofing materials used when these buildings were erected most of the losses would have been averted.

In the early part of last year the citizens of Indianapolis, Ind., began a campaign of fire prevention. Before the campaign was launched city officials joined with representatives of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce in gathering information. A fire prevention campaign has been conducted in Cincinnati, O., where it was found there had been 1,872 fires during 1920. Indianapolis had suffered 3,465 conflagrations the same year, notwithstanding that the Hoosier capital was then only one-half as large as Cincinnati and had approximately only one-half her property valuation. Cincinnati had only 56 roof fires that year while Indianapolis had 1,400. The net result of the Indianapolis campaign for fire-safe roofs was a reduction in 1921 of $550,000 in losses and 350 in the number of fires. Of 1,199 fires in Indianapolis reported by Fire Chief O'Brien of that city in 1922, 850 were still directly chargeable to inflammable roofing. New York City and Chicago were the only cities leading Indianapolis in the number of fires.

"In the year 1911," says Fire Chief O'Brien, "Indianapolis had a fire loss of somewhat over $300,000 and a total of less than 1,700 fire alarms. This fire loss increased by leaps and bounds year after year, until we reached a loss of more than $1,800,000 in 1920, with a grand total of 3,465 fires." This increase in fires, he says, necessitated the constant enlargement of the fire department until the cost of maintenance reached $1,000,000 a year. An ordinance has been introduced in the Indianapolis city council providing for the elimination of all wooden shingle roofs within eight years.

Fire department records in Wabash, Ind., show that of 30 fires in that city from January 1 to March 1 this year, 25 were due to wooden shingle roofs. As in Indianapolis and Cincinnati many old shingle roofs in Wabash are being covered or replaced with asphalt roofing.

Fire resistant shingles are usually manufactured of rag felt, thoroughly saturated with asphalt. On top of this is placed a heavy coating of harder asphalt which thoroughly waterproofs the shingle and into which is rolled mineral material, such as crushed slate or feldspar, colored green, gray, red or brown as desired. This roofing is much less inflammable than the wooden shingle.

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY FOR 1922.

Since the truth is best, we had rather inquire than argue. There is nothing gained in arguing to prove a point after the manner of the district attorneys. Argue to ascertain the truth. When we present our views it should be to draw the other fellow's fire in opposition and from the outcome to reach the conclusion of common sense. We gain more when we lose an argument than when we win one, because when we lose we learn something, while when we win we only add to our vanity, which is always more than sufficient for our own good. Entering into an argument with our wits is like going to the grain field with a scythe—a waste of time if we don't gather the grain we seek and need.

A MERCILESS JUDGE
One Who Shows No Favor.

A merciless Judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and the wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Maysville resident has withstood the sternest of all tests. Mrs. M. Holliday, 221 East Second street, Maysville, says: "I have been greatly benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills and I have reason to recommend them. At times my back has become lame and ached just over my kidneys. My kidneys were irregular in action and I was dizzy. When ever I have used Doan's Kidney Pills I always get relief from these complaints. I can truly think them a good reliable remedy. I always get Doan's at Wood & Son's Drug Store."

The above statement was given November 16, 1916, and on November 22, 1920, Mrs. Holliday said: "I am glad to say my kidneys have given me no trouble since using Doan's Kidney Pills four years ago. My general health has been good. I gladly renew the statement I gave recommending Doan's at that time."

OVER NINETY KILLED IN STEAMER EXPLOSION.

Buenos Ayres, June 4. —The Steamer Villa Franco, with a crowd of 100 excursionists on the Parana River near the Paraguay-Argentina frontier, was destroyed this afternoon by an explosion of the steamer's boilers.

More than 90 persons are dead. The disaster was made more horrible through repeated explosions in a cargo of gasoline in tins.

The entire river, coated with gasoline, was a mass of flames, making practically futile the efforts of rescuers.

BRITISH SHELL IRISH.

Belfast, June 5. — In fighting Sunday night in the Hillside woods near Pettigo British troops shelled the Irish Republicans.

It is reported that six of the latter were killed. The Republicans, unable to withstand the big gunfire, surrendered to the British.

An orgy of bloodshed in which three were killed and 19 wounded took place here over the week-end.

W. J. Flanagan, a magistrate, was fatally shot as he left the Cathedral Sunday. Other victims included soldiers, police and civilians. Three were killed in a border skirmish at Lettercran in Fermanagh.

NEED NEW CITIZENS?

GOT TO BE FARMERS.

New York. — "Canada's great hope for the future lies in immigration," said Albert E. Perrins, of Montreal, at the Pennsylvania.

"But we do not want city folk. What Canada needs is the farmer immigrant who can cultivate the land intelligently. It really doesn't matter whether or not he owns anything, if he is a born farmer. City people will not stay on the farms, but eventually drift back to the centers of population."
